CURRENT LEADERSHIP AND FACULTY POSITIONS AT THE UNIVERSITY OF BRITISH COLUMBIA (UBC, Vancouver, Canada)

Director, Institute for Asian Research (IAR): September 1, 2012 - Present

- As Director of the Asia policy hub at UBC and the premier Asia-focused research center and think tank in Canada, led a wide range of activities, including: high profile events with senior political, diplomatic, academic, and social leaders; diplomatic engagement with Asian governments in Vancouver; initiation and support of strategic relations with Asian universities and governments; development of intra-UBC Asia innovations (thematic clusters, IAR Fellows); advising role with leadership of the University; advising role with BC and Canadian governments; network and partnership development; fundraising; and intra-UBC coordination.
- Led university-wide initiatives on China, Indonesia, and Myanmar.
- Managed the transition of IAR into the Faculty of Arts, including streamlining of procedures, faculty affairs, staff management, and teaching program.
- Initiated and managed the creation of the Vision 20 Network in 2016 with the aim of providing big picture and long-term perspective for the reform of global economic and environmental governance and to the G20 agenda. Brought together 50 leading scholars, policy makers, and global policy leaders to a V20 summit in Hangzhou (March-April 2016) and formed coalition of research centers and think tanks. Led the drafting of a summary report to the Chinese Presidency of the G20 (April-May 2016).

Chair, UBC Public Policy Curriculum Committee: January-December, 2014

- Led the creation of the new MPPGA program, including the development of a new curriculum with relevant faculty members, units and stakeholders across university and outside University. Led consultations with government at multiple levels (Ottawa, Victoria).
- Led consultations with potential partners around the world for dual degree and partnership agreements (Sciences-Po, Tokyo University, Peking University, Fudan University, National University of Singapore, LSE, Hertie School of Governance, JNU).
- MPPGA was approved by the UBC Senate in November 2014, by the Board of Governors in December 2014, and by the BC government in April 2015. It was launched in September 2015.

Co-Director, Master of Public Policy and Global Affairs (MPPGA): January 2015- July 2016

- In partnership with Co-Director (Director of the Liu Institute for Global Affairs), launched the MPPGA program, recruited the first two cohorts, establish the administrative structure and partnerships for the program.
- Led the international engagement of the MPPGA across the world.
- Co-led the work in 2016 to establish a formal UBC public policy school.

Executive Director, UBC China Council: October 2013 - Present

- Worked with President and Vice President Research and International in translating recommendations and ideas developed over a few years into an innovative new institution: a UBC China Council, created to pool information across UBC, advise the top leadership on strategic initiatives with China, and catalyze new strategic initiatives.
- Liaised with all Deans at UBC in developing a coordinated inventory of China activities.
- Developed an information database and survey regarding all activities linked to China.
- Provided leadership in the hosting of major delegations at UBC, including university leaders and top government leaders.
- Organized or supported major UBC delegations to China with either President, Vice President, or China Council Co-Chair, Senator Jack Austin.
- Managed the relation with the Chinese Consulate General and government
- Organized strategic and catalytic events in Vancouver involving UBC, Canadian government at multiple levels, business leaders, social leaders, and other stakeholders.
- Developed partnerships across sectors of activity and established the China Council as a core stakeholder in Canada on China relations.
- Played an advisory role with Canadian government.

Chair, President's Ad-Hoc Committee on International Strategy: October 2014-January 2015

- Committee provided a short-term advising role for the new President about his international engagements and travels, especially in Asia.
- Led the creation of an inventory of initiatives developed in all faculties and a ranked menu of options to the President for action in the short-term, with due attention to long-term issues and strategies.
- Provided support and led selected initiatives as part of the President's travel to China (Spring 2015).

ORGANIZATION OF MAJOR EVENTS

March-April 2016

Organized the Vision 20: International Summit on Global Governance's New Frontiers. Co-lead by the Institute of Asian Research, Munk School of Global Affairs, and Zhejiang University. View full details on the website: thevision20.org

Faculty members, senior administrators, and graduate students from the Institute of Asian Research were in Hangzhou, China at an event coordinated by Professor Yves Tiberghien, Director of the Institute. The event, which brought together a large global coalition of policy schools and think tanks, sought to bring COP 21 and Sustainable Development Goals (SDGs) into the leadership priorities of the forthcoming G20 summit.

The event brought together fifty world-class speakers and a dozen universities to seek a bigger-picture approach to the G20, initiate a new network, and produce a blue paper and book to influence the G20 in September 2016. Fundraised over $350,000 for this event from private sources and Zhejiang University.
