

Inter-University Center for Japanese Language Studies

Yokohama, Japan

Scholarship Opportunity: advanced Japanese language training for graduate students with Japan-focused career goals in academia, business, diplomacy/government service, journalism, translation, and law

THE NIPPON FOUNDATION FELLOWS PROGRAM 2018-19

at the Inter-University Center for Japanese Language Studies (IUC)

The IUC is pleased to announce generous sponsorship from The Nippon Foundation of a 10-month fellowship program at the IUC. The Nippon Foundation Fellows Program at the IUC aims to provide the most promising students with the deep linguistic and cultural knowledge needed to become leaders in their fields, and to foster strong collegial bonds and intellectual exchange among them and with their IUC senpai.

Eligibility: Ph.D. students in all fields of Japanese studies currently enrolled in universities in North America, Europe, Australia, or New Zealand; M.A., M.S., M.B.A., & J.D. students with Japan-focused career goals in academia, business, diplomacy/government service, journalism, translation, and law currently enrolled in or recently graduated from a North American university.

Fellows will receive a full tuition scholarship plus a modest living stipend to attend the 10-month immersion program in advanced Japanese at the IUC in Yokohama.

Nippon Foundation Fellows participate fully in the program of instruction at the IUC, and in addition they:

- Meet regularly with each other and the IUC Resident Director to discuss their research interests and experiences in Japan;
- Meet with distinguished IUC alumni at semiannual lectures held in Tokyo; and
- Deliver a presentation in Japanese at a Nippon Foundation Fellows conference open to the public.

Ph.D. Application Deadline: Dec. 15, 2017

M.A./M.S./M.B.A./J.D. Application Deadline: Dec. 15, 2017

Complete details and applications are available online

web: www.stanford.edu/dept/IUC

email: iucjapan@stanford.edu